FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF OCEAN BEACH, POINT LOMA, MISSION BAY AND MISSION BEACH

Twenty-second Year No. 26 | Phone Bayview 3157 | Friday, April 14, 1944 | Five Cents a Copy | Ocean Beach, California

COMMENT and RUMOR-

About two years behind schedule, but the City of San Diego this week paved Abbott st. from Newport to Santa Monica sts., and the finished job looks fine. It will add to the appearance of the beach section for the summer season when we have many visitors here for the first time.

A lot of repair is also being done by the city street department to breaks in streets and sidewalks. Some are only unsightly, while other holes can be a definite hazard to life and limb, so the city finds it cheaper to make the repairs than pay damage claims.

Rollin Reed, manager Ocean Beach branch Bank of America, this week was host to the bank employees at a dinner and show, giving the treat because the bank had exceeded the quota set in the 4th War Loan drive.

John J. Fitzpatrick informs us that we can ride to San Diego and back on the bus for 12½c, or we can buy a round trip ticket and pay 20c. The difference he says is that one token only takes the passenger to the plaza while a round trip ticket entitles you to a transfer in the first zone. We are glad to know this John, we've already squandered several 7½c pieces that we could have saved by buying tokens instead of round trip tickets.

The Kraft drug store has been having its signs changed this week with the predominating color a light blue. Makes a fine looking portion of the business center too, being the most prominent corner in the beach.

Ocean Beach apparently has an undesirable resident who is systematically burglarizing local business places. A half dozen stores or more have been entered during the past month.

Similar occurances have happened in past years but sooner or later justice catches up with the culprit. Sometime—we hope soon—he'll be caught in the act, and like predecessors in this area, try just one too many spots. Someone wil have a gun handy—and first thing you know the police surgeon will be called to pronounce him dead.

Several times this community has asked for a foot patrolman, who might keep watch on suspicious characters, as well as keep local rowdies under control. It is very seldom that police in patrol cars catch up with a burglar but a patrolman in the business district should save hundreds of dollars a year to the merchants who are entitled to the protection, especially since we have to pay city taxes, and an added city license, to be able to operate any kind of business.

We knew when Monk Burnham went into the hardware business next door there would be evidence of some sort he was in the neighborhood besides his cheery voice. Now the Ocean Beach Hardware truck blossoms out in brilliant red—just like the brightest fire wagon you ever saw. Bright people need bright surroundings, says Tom Richley.

R. E. Peebles was telling us nearly two weeks ago that he was grandpa and our note on the matter was mislaid. Seems a 6 lb. 2 oz. daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Junior Peebles April 1st, and the April fool part was on Junior. He had put in his bid for a boy.

Was it an imaginary high tide or was there really a fine stream of cool clear mountain water, loaded with trout, running down Newport ave. yesterday morning. Anyhow one of our scouts says Bert Stratton was out there with a fly rod, line and leader, casting as if his heart and soul were in the task, and his hind foot poised just right for a "strike."

The OPA caught up with a local violator this week and according to the daily press ordered James C. Barta, operating markets at 4984 Voltaire st. and two San Diego locations, to cease buying, selling or otherwise dealing in rationed meats, fats, fish and cheese from 1:01 a.m., April 24, to the same time on April 27th. The complaint said Barta had charged over-ceiling prices for meat and was guilty of other violations.

Babson Gives Advice On Plans For Future

DEFYING GOD'S PLANS

Babson Pleads For Nature's Ways of Living.

Babson Park, Florida, March 31.—It is very interesting to note the relative number of letters coming to me as the result of different subjects on which I write. Some columns upon which I spend much time will get very few "fan" letters; while others, written quickly, will pull large mails. It is of further interest that my biggest mails will come when I mention birds, children, national parks, religion or other subjects not of an economic nature.

Birds and Trees

My recent reference to the Willison Bird Sanctuary at Babson Park, Massachusetts, has brought a very large mail from bird lovers. They emphasize that the hundreds of millions of dollars now being spent to spray fruit, vegetables and trees could be wholly saved if we would protect the birds.

Other readers constantly urge me to condemn forest fires and the cutting of any trees without systematic reforestation. Protecting our forests would prevent floods and soil erosion. This would greatly reduce the need of buying fertilizer and prevent the terrific waste in crops from poor top soil. There is also a strong sentiment to prevent speculation in natural resources—such as oil, metals and timber and having them owned by the Government.

Bad Legislation

There is great danger in interfering with nature's plans. This includes scores of very important things from birth control to price-fixing; including the ruthless cutting of timber and driling for oil. In fact, it appears that the Old Deal has interfered with God's Plans as much as the New Deal. It temporarily would cause hardships to repeal 1,000 or more of our laws; but the result, in the end, would benefit every honest employer, wage worker and investor. When a law is passed by Democrats or Republicans which interferes with nature's program it, like a lie, must be followed up by more laws or lies in order to enforce or cover up the first mistake.

On the other hand, I heartily approve the recent decision of the R.F.C. to loan money to returning soldiers to re-establish them in business. Thus a soldier who sold his garage, or filling station, or retail store to enter the armed forces, may borrow funds upon his return to buy the business back or buy some other business. The applicant must, of course, show previous experience and put up some money of his own. Service men's wives should write their husbands about this and, if interested, make application for them at their local bank or at the nearest R.F.C. agency.

Don't Be Greedy

Fundamental lessons must be learned by employers, wage earners and investors. Corporations must learn that it is dangerous to become too large. Growth is not wrong; but bigness develops jealousy and invites anti-monopoly attacks. Wage workers must learn that their Unions will ultimately be subject to the same laws as all corporations. Investors should look more to honest book values of invested capital and less to dividends and quotations. They should avoid having too must invested in God's natural resources or in public franchises.

All groups must also learn that there is more to divide only as more is produced and that this should be more equally distributed. Blocs—whether representing farmers, laborers, employers or veterans—are hostile both to democratic principles and to the Laws of God. If you belong to a group which is dependent upon tariffs, pensions, subsidies or price and wage fixing, you better switch into some other group. Sooner or later these favored blocs will be wiped out with other artificial legislation.

What's Ahead?

I expect a few years of good business following World War II but after these years we probably will experience unemployment, radical inflation and other serious troubles. It is true that such need not come if we had not interfered so much during the past 40 years with God's Plans. But we cannot ignore God much longer. Only a great spiritual awakening can prevent an ultimate collapse and I do not expect such an awakening until the collapse comes.

Statisticians believe that both World Wars I and II are only symptoms of a great world revolution which started in Russia 20 years ago and may continue for 50 years more. We are experiencing a great economic turnover which comes only once in 200 or 300 years. Our children may suffer therefrom; but our great grandchildren may be better off by the changes which are ahead. In plain English, the world is being given a "dose of salts." Neither the New Deal nor the Republican Party can prevent this purge from working although they can delay action.

Rules to Follow

What does this mean to us? What should we do to protect ourselves against the Deluge when it hits the United States? Well, I have covered this in a book published at $2 by Harper Bros. of New York entitled, "Looking Ahead Fifty Years." The meat of this book is as follows:

1. Have a small "close in" home with enough land to feed your family in case you lose your job and money. I do not recommend farming as a post-war business; but it is an excelent insurance.
2. Have your children and grandchildren trained in some one thing such as stenography, typing, nursing, accounting or even playing a musical instrument. An engineering or medical training should be a great asset; but the ordinary college degree may be only a ticket to the poor house.
3. Diversify your interests and investments very broadly, seeking security rather than salary or dividends. Always have a good proportion of your capital in good merchandise or merchandise stocks. In fact, a little family business, which your grandchildren can carry on—if necessary—independent of employees may be an excellent hedge.
4. Develop good and thrifty habits, raise a good family and connect yourself with the Church which will ultimately be the Saviour of civilization.

PRINTER WANTED

The News office for several weeks has had more work than we could get out as rapidly as delivery should be made and we would be pleased to interview a job printer who can give all or part time to the work.

—H. H. Hartvigsen.

IN THE SERVICE--

News from our local boys in service as well as letters or excerpts of letters will be gladly published in this newspaper. Please bring them in for many service men receive the Ocean Beach News by mail weekly and are glad to hear of former friends.

Election Notes

To keep the election records straight we publish the following:

Registration closed for the May primary on April 6. From that date to May 11 absent voters may obtain absentee ballots. April 15, supervisors appoint precinct boards and name polling places.

Tuesday, May 16, is the primary election.

Taxes on Real Estate Delinquent on April 20

April 20th, the delinquency date for the second installment of taxes on real estate, is now only a few days away. Property owners who have not paid their second installment of taxes by that time will be obliged to pay a penalty of 3 per cent, plus fifty cents per item cost. By mailing remittances before April 20th this penalty can be avoided.

SAM A. CLAGGETT,
County Tax Collector.

Clyde Tallman Now Kiwanis Member

Burritt Mills was program chairman Tuesday evening at Ocean Beach Kiwanis with Father Philip Harris of Trinity Episcopal church as speaker. Father Harris gave a highly interesting talk on the origination of the Lenten season which he said was first known as a short period of preparation for the Easter time. The observance of the holy days of Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday and Good Friday were described with the rites of "washing of the feet" a very true lesson in humility. The holy rites increased until Holy Saturday before Easter, all being a preparation of the soul and mind to observance of Easter and the resurrection. Easter being a time of rejoicing in the resurrection of the Christ and prayerful Thanksgiving for a new life.

Clyde O. Tallman, manager of Elm's Toggery at Ocean Beach, was introduced to the club by Heber Hartvigsen and inducted into membership by Milton Lancaster. He is a native of Clinton, Iowa, and graduate of the high school at Amboy, Minn.

Major Ross Plant, nephew of J. O. (Tom) Plant, was a guest of his uncle.

Fourth Graders at News Office Today

Friday, April 14, will be a happy day for Mrs. Lockridge's fourth grade class. All the children in the class and two room mothers and Mrs. Lockridge are going to visit the Ocean Beach News Office. They will learn how newspapers are printed and many interesting things about newspapers. They are making a newspaper in their room and they appreciate the opportunity to learn what real news workers have to do.

The mothers who will go with the class are Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Mead and the children in the class are: Paralee Aaron, Nancy Abbey, Viola Berkheimer, Coralyn Brenneis, Lois Gerrard, Carol Hart, Connie Hennie, Helen Heywood, Audrey Hoy, Mary Lou Ibey, Pamela Jackson, Diane Kennedy, Roberta Mead, Donna Lee Muchmore, Donna Lee Miller, Shirley Miller, Lois Plummer, June Reeves, Juanita Wheelock, Joan White, Ernest Addison, Orval Allen, Donald Clark, Paul Comito, Stephen Cresson, Teddy Crouch, Gary Gilbert, Julian Goeb, George Haydon, Tommy Howell, Earl Lewellen, Donald Mincey, Paul Morton, Billy Nash, Ray Ramage, John Rickabaugh, Richard Roshon, Edward Runk, Willis Smith, Robert Sullivan, Donald Vedder and Rockwell Wright.

Look for stories about our trip in later edition of the Ocean Beach News.

Connie Henrie, secretary.

The Second Grade children in Room 4 have been learning about the San Diego Airport. They built an airplane big enough for four children to 'ride" in. The airplane was as complete as it was possible for them to make it, even to the red and green lights on the wings and a white light on the tail. The nose opened up for them to put in the baggage which was rolled up to the airplane on a donkey truck.

The air control tower was a busy place, equipped with ear phones. A tall beacon was constructed with a light that blinked on and off.

A weather chart was kept by the children. Every day they recorded the wind direction, condition of sky and clouds, rain or sun, and the temperature.

These children are now studying about the San Diego harbor. There will be a large ferry boat in the harbor, and airplanes and ships that work for victory. Children like to learn about these things. And each Tuesday these children buy stamps and bonds for victory.

E. A. Sutton, Realtor Moves to Oceanside

E. A. Sutton, real estate agent who has been located at 1927 Bacon street the past year, has given up his office here and moved to Oceanside where he will deal in land and farm sales. He has opened an office at 1932 So. Hill street adjoining a large tract of irrigated land for which he has the exclusive sale.

Mrs. Sutton has gone to New York to visit relatives until E. A. can find a suitable home near his new location.

Citizens Aroused Need Of Recreation Facilities

Chamber Commerce Urges Cooperation

Are you, as parents, as business men, as members of this community, interested in the welfare of our juveniles. If so, you owe it to them to come to your Chamber of Commerce meetings. On Monday, April 10, 1944, a meeting was held where the people who are interested set the forces moving that will show the teen-agers that we have their interests at heart. Now is the time to act before individuals intercede and spoil our chances of getting what we want for recreation. We have to organize every one in the beach to get what we want.

It was erroneously announced by this Chamber that the Davis building was owned by the city. It was leased by the city. Now we want the city to lease it again, remodel and maintain it as a recreation center. The plans include a post-war recreation program for all members of the family from young to old. To further this program, Daniel Moss was appointed to be the representative of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of representatives from all organized clubs of Ocean Beach. This committee or coordinating council will set up a plan of what we want in Ocean Beach, and present it to the Mayor and the city council. A letter was presented at the Tuesday meeting of the City Council, informing them of our actions and intentions. If necessary the Chamber of Commerce will call a special meeting to plan what we can do immediately.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to have more cooperation from the shore patrol from ten till two, to prevent the petty robberies occurring on the beach.

The lapsing of the lease to the Davis building by the city recreation department was the spark that set in motion men and women of Ocean Beach who are considering first the need of the youth group for healthful recreation that is a distressing need here. Petitions were immediately gotten out and circulated by Mr. and Mrs. John Kowal.

Lloyd Greeson, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Daniel Moss, commander of the American legion; with Rev. James F. Robers and others, met with Mayor Harley Knox and councilmen to show officials the great need for a large and constructive play center here.

Local organizations are now aroused to the fact that only by fighting, planning, and cooperating, can Ocean Beach get a recreation center that is worthy of the name.

The present plan is for Rev. James F. Roberts, who is enthusiastic in his betterment work in this section of the city, to act as head advisor to the local groups, coordinating them in an all-out program that will use the Davis building for an emergency recreation center, then outline plans for a larger building and grounds to be established on the south side of Newport ave. near the ocean where the city now owns 250 foot frontage.

While these projects will not fill the entire need of Ocean Beach they will carry through an emergency program which will lead to a greater and better play center in a neighborhood removed from the business district, possibly in the vicinity of the school or church area.

Every person should lend a hand to these public spirited people and help them to secure the recreation facilities that should be furnished by the City if San Diego to this steadily growing section.

Mrs. C. Florin Opens Ocean Village Cafe

Mrs. C. Florin, a Swedish caterer of ability, has opened the Ocean Village cafe, 5172 W. Point Loma blvd., which has been closed for more than a year. Friends state she serves the finest home-made pies to be had in this neighborhood as well as full course dinners with chicken, rabbit or shrimp her specialties. See her adv. elsewhere in this issue

Burglars Busy In Ocean Beach

A burglar who is not a new hand at the business jimmied the front door of Mc's Barber shop, 4937 Newport avenue, Friday night of last week and made off with the cash register containing nearly a week's receipts and amounting to several hundred dollars. Mr. McGunnigell, proprietor, would greatly appreciate return of his cash register, even though he doesn't get any of its contents back.

The same night entrance was made at Dr. W. B. Oster's office, 4879 Voltaire street, where more than $100 was secured from office funds.

The latest burglary was Tuesday night this week when the thief jimmied his way into the back door of the Cords Piston Ring mfg. office in the Kraft building, where nothing was believed taken. Here the thief supposed he was entering a back door of the Kraft Drug store, so was foiled in his efforts to gain loot there.

John Titlow's Father Dies In Indiana Home

John Titlow, local insurance man, received word Monday that his father had passed away that day in his home in Vincennes, Ind. Funeral services were held April 13 with interment in the family plot at Bethlehem, Ind.

M. B. Titlow was age 95 and had enjoyed good health until about three weeks ago, according to his son who visited his father last in 1942. He was in the coal and feed business during his active business career.

Sixth Science Church Lecture Sunday

Sixth Church of Christ, Scientist, will sponsor a free lecture on Christian Science next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the edifice of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2442 Second avenue, San Diego.

The subject is "The New Heaven and the New Earth as Revealed by Christian Science." Margaret Matters, C.S.B., of New York City, is the lecturer.

Plan To Tax Government Owned Realty Holdings

Passage of proposition No. 1 on the May 16 ballot, which would take out of the California constitution the three words that prohibit the state taxing property belonging to the United States government, is recommended by the board of directors of California Taxpayers' association, the association announced today. It is estimated that in excess of $6,500,000 of presently prohibited revenues would be received by the local governments through passage of the amendment.

In San Diego county, 700,952 acres of land, 26 per cent of the 2,715,120 acres of area in the county, with an estimated value of $27,573,165, were owned by the federal government as of September 1, 1943, the association stated.

In Alpine county, 90 per cent of the area of the county is owned by the federal government. Other counties where more than 40 per cent of the county area is federally-owned include: Inyo, 86 per cent; Trinity, 76 per cent; San Bernardino, 72 per cent; Tuolumne, 72 per cent; Plumas, 68 per cent; Del Norte, 67 per cent; Mono, 65 per cent; Modoc, 61 per cent; Lassen, 58 per cent; Siskiyou, 58 per cent; Sierra, 56 per cent; Tulare, 50 per cent; Fresno, 49 per cent; Ventura, 48 per cent; Santa Barbara, 47 per cent; Mariposa and Riverside, 45 per cent; Lake, 42 per cent; El Dorado, 41 per cent.

Over the state as a whole, it is estimated that 43 per cent of the area, with an assessed value of $320,000,000, is federally owned. In addition, the federal government owns personal property with an estimated value in excess of $1,500,000,000.

Increased Activity in Pacific Sector Marked by U. S. Blows on Jap Bases And Heavy Fighting in Burma, India; 4-Fs Get Study in Manpower Crisis

Italy—Against a background of war's ruin at Cassino, an Allied medical unit moves to the front to attend the wounded.

RATIONING:
Announce Changes

More gas, freer use of fuel oil and food coupons and ration changes in vegetables, fruits, meats and oils were announced by OPA.

To maintain the distribution business, it was announced drivers holding "B" cards will be allowed an additional 100 miles a month, while expiration dates for fuel oil coupons will be eliminated before the fall season of heavy consumption gets underway.

Because many shoppers cashed in their red and blue food coupons for tokens at expiration dates, OPA took off all time limits on the stamps.

While all frozen fruits and vegetables were taken off rationing, beef flank meat, pork liver, lamb and mutton hearts, liver, sweetbreads and tongue, beef tongue, cooked and barbecued pork spareribs and pork tongue were cut 1 point. Shortening, salad and cooking oil were slashed 1 point. Points on canned carrots and tomato juice also were reduced.

DRAFT:
Eye 4-Fs

To fill up the industrial and agricultural ranks left vacant by the drafting of all men except key workers under 26, the government called for the induction of all 4-Fs not engaged in essential occupations and a congressional committee moved to shape special legislation for such a program.

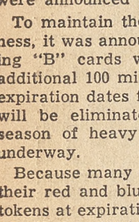
At the same time, it was revealed Selective Service was scrapping its unit system of deferring agricultural workers, only giving consideration to a man's regular employment on a farm and the problem of replacing him.

Under the government's proposal, 4-Fs doing nonessential work would be enlisted as reserves and directed to essential occupations at regular civilian pay, or they would be enrolled in labor battalions for employment at army pay if they refused to accept the assignments.

Of the nation's 3,500,000 4-Fs it was estimated that about 1,000,000 were engaged in non-essential work.

PACIFIC:
Threaten India

As bold Japanese forces thrust toward the highway hub of Imphal in India, Adm. Louis Mountbatten rallied Allied forces to a stand to hold this key to land communications all along the 600-mile Burmese front.



Admiral Mountbatten

In the Southwest Pacific area, strong U. S. naval forces again challenged the Japanese fleet to come out and fight by attacking the enemy's sea base of Palau, 460 miles from the Philippines, but the Nips once more withdrew. On New Guinea, New Britain and Bougainville, Allied ground forces continued to press the Japs, as U. S. airmen impeded reinforcement of their battered troops by shooting up shipping and bases.

Seeking to capitalize on their surprise of the Allies in India when they burst from the Burmese jungle from three points to converge on Imphal, the Japs maintained heavy pressure in the face of stiffening British resistance. Beyond Imphal lay the Bengal-Assam railroad, supplying Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's U. S. and Chinese troops pushing the Japs down the Mogaung valley in far northern Burma.

AGRICULTURE:
Food Subsidies

To peg consumer costs, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones ordered the $3,000,000,000 Commodity Credit corporation to use its powers and funds for subsidizing food prices.

In addition, the CCC was ordered to purchase, sell, store and transport food and farm products involved in the WFA's price-support and lend-lease programs.

Strongly bucked by the farm bloc in congressional debate but upheld by administration forces, the food subsidy program will cost the CCC between $650,000,000 and $800,000,000, it was estimated.

Farm Prices

Increases in returns on meat animals, feed grains, hay and oil bearing and fruit crops resulted in a one point advance in the general level of farm prices from mid-February to mid-March, the agriculture department reported.

Boosts in the above commodities more than offset declines in food grains, truck crops, and milk and egg prices, and brought the general income level to 196 of the 1909-'14 plane. A rise of one point brought prices paid by farmers to 176 of the 1909-'14 standard.

Prices received by farmers averaged 115 of parity, with only wheat, rye, flaxseed, cotton, hay, peanuts, cotton, lemon and oranges below the fair exchange value established by congress.

EUROPE:
In Balkans

While their lines held in northern Russia, German troops fell back to the Carpathian mountains in the south, where they were looked upon to make a stand with Hungarian and Rumanian forces recently incorporated into the Nazi armies.

As the Germans drew back in the east, Allied bombers headed over western Europe to drop their explosives over the expected invasion routes and hammer at Nazi production centers. In Italy, both sides traded punches at Anzio below Rome, while action tapered at Cassino, where Germans clung to their defensive posts.

In pushing the Germans back to the Carpathians, the Russians advanced to within 30 miles from the old Czecho-Slovak border, while farther to the southeast, they crossed the Prut river to lunge into Rumania.

Occupation Plans

From London last week came reports indicating Allied plans for postwar Europe shaped by the U. S., Russia and Britain.

With the reich's collapse, the authoritative London Sunday Observer said plans called for British occupation of western and north central Germany, U. S. control of the southern and south-central parts, and Russia of the eastern section. Symbol of Germany, Berlin would be occupied by all three powers.

Before establishment of stable government, the Big Three would also occupy Austria, and any movement for that country's union with Germany would be discouraged, with closer economic ties with the Balkans suggested.

Looking toward eastern Europe, information leaking from sources consulted on perfecting details of the Teheran agreements indicate Moscow will annex the Baltic states and eastern Poland and Balkan territory considered traditionally Russian, and exercise influence over Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

DAIRY SUBSIDIES: Charles Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers federation, told a senate committee that subsidies on dairy products would have to be increased by $200,000,000 a year to give farmers a fair return. This would raise the total paid to milk producers from $550,000,000 to $750,000,000. Holman is opposed to the whole dairy subsidy program.

SAVINGS: In the first two years of war, savings of the American people have increased by more than 50 per cent, represented by war bonds, bank deposits and life insurance. The total of these three items on January 1 of this year was 91 billion dollars. About 12 per cent of individual income goes into these forms of savings, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

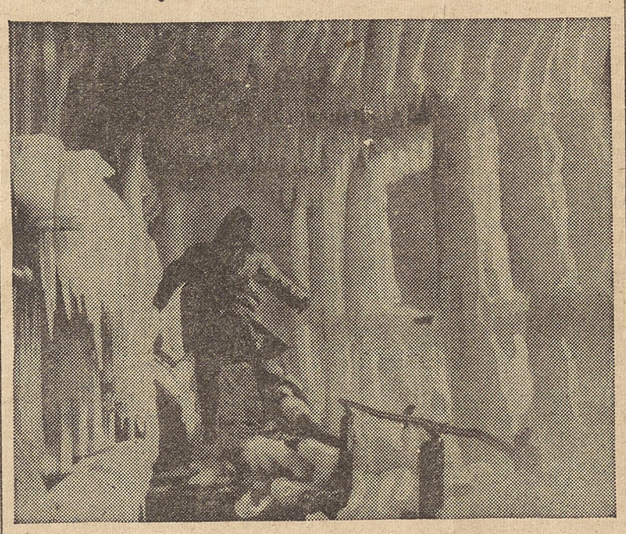
Icy North Atlantic Saga



A Royal Canadian corvette reaches port after a tour of convoy escort duty framed in artistic coating of ice formed in North Atlantic. Heavy seas and subzero temperatures add to perils of seamanship for Ordinary Seaman Bruce Price of Petersboro, Ontario, who clings to frosty stanchions to prevent a mishap.

Aid Red Cross

Lieut. Elwood Cooke of the U. S. Navy Preflight school, and his wife, Sarah Palfrey Cooke, who will appear in a series of exhibition tennis matches in Athens, Ga., for benefit of Red Cross war fund. Cooke won world's doubles title in Wimbledon in 1939 and his wife annexed national women's single crown at Forest Hills in 1941.

22 Die in Coast Hotel Fire

Charred bodies of 22 victims taken from small San Francisco hotel after it had been gutted by fire are shown lined along a curb. Some burned in their beds, while others died jumping for their lives. Toll of blaze also includes 30 injured persons. Police believe the fire to be the work of an arsonist.

Onlooker—Nope, ain't got any patience.

Yes, Stung

He—I've been in touch with royalty.

She—You have?

He—You bet. I was stung by a queen bee!

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

Re-electing Judges

. . . by Curtis Hillyer

A controversy arises over the right to the waters of a river. A great city claims them for the purpose of supplying water to its inhabitants. The farmers whose farms lie along the river, oppose the city. Practically every inhabitant in two whole counties is against the big city. The decision as to which has the better claim rests with a judge. No matter which way he decides he will disappoint thousands of people. It is easy to see why he judge must be a man of the greatest independence.

A controversy arises in a labor dispute. On one side is a powerful labor union with thousands of voters making up its membership. On the other side is an employers' association representing the business and commercial interest of the whole region. To discharge the responsibility of determining which is right, again we need a man fearless and independent.

Cases like these illustrate in a large way what frequently happens in questions presented to the courts.

In order that we may secure judgments that are fair and impartial it is of the first importance that our judges be independent.

There has always been a problem of how to get good judges, how to keep good judges, and how to maintain them in office.

Where judges are elected for short terms there is frequently a scramble for the office. The most popular and not necessarily the best qualified persons are likely to be chosen. Then, during the time that the judge is on the bench he must keep an eye on the approaching election. There is naturally an incentive to favor the pressure groups and those persons supposed to be influential in politics. The result, in many cities, is that the caliber of the man on the bench is below that of the bar which practices before him.

As a practical matter, the appointment of a judge, as a rule, results in a better selection, than by election. Where the judge is appointed for life, he has an independence of the consequence resulting from an unpopular decision, which is a very desirable thing. On the other hand if a man has a tendency to be arrogant or indolent a life term is a bad thing.

An attempt to solve this problem has resulted in many experiments in the various states. In California we have a six year term. Almost without exception, our Superior Judges make their entry on the bench through appointment to fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of the incumbent before the expiration of his term. That appointments are, as a rule, good ones, is borne out by the fact that, almost without exception, the appointee, at the expiration of his term, is retained by popular vote.

There is in this state an established custom, a habit of voting, we might say, to re-elect judges who have proven satisfactory and continue to do this as long as the judge is willing to serve on the bench. In fact, so well established has this practice become that it is rare for an incumbent to have opposition when he is a candidate for re-election. Occasionally, however, there comes an ambitious lawyer who thinks that he has a personal following sufficiently strong to enable him to oust the incumbent, and then we have a contested election. There are strong reasons why this sort of thing should be discouraged.

The feeling of a judge who is on the bench that he may act without fear or favor, and let the chips fall where they may, without being a target for the revenge of the losers is one of the greatest factors in producing judgments on the merits, uninfluenced by any personal effect of the decision upon the judge, himself.

We have a situation in San Diego at the present time which illustrates the importance of this principle of security of tenure. The term of office of Superior Court Judge Weinberger is about to expire. During his incumbency he has discharged his office to the complete satisfaction of those who are in a position to judge such matters. His fairness, impartiality, courtesy, industry, integrity and legal ability are universally acknowledged. His position is now being sought by an ambitious rival, and this good judge is put to the loss of time and expense of making a campaign to retain his position. If there were a question of unfitness, in any way, there would be a good reason for a contest in this election, but no such question exists. No worse precedent could be established than to retire a judge without good reason. If this is permitted to be done, it cannot fail to ceate a feeling of insecurity among all of our judges. If thereby tends to weaken the independence which security of tenure has helped to sustain in the past.

We are proud of our Superior Bench in this county. There is not single member of it against whom there has ever been a breath of suspicion. They are all men who possess our entire confidence. As voters we should do our best to perpetuate such a bench as we now possess, and there is no way we can do this better, than by discouraging such contests as the one now at hand. This we can do by retaining all its present occupants.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"I am not alone, because the Father is with me. . . . In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." These declarations of Jesus, from John's Gospel will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

In his first epistle Peter writes, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away. . . Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you, Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them."

Our regular local monthly meeting was held Monday, April 10th, in the hall of the Assembly of God, corner Ebers and Cape May ave. Why do we see only the same few? Can't we impress upon all the block leaders that they should attend this meeting? These meetings, usually held the second Monday of the month, are very informal and usually last a little over an hour.

Our guest speaker was Mrs. Lydia K. Gray of the San Diego association for family living. Her talk was quite interesting and she explained the work of this organization. Briefly they strive to keep families from breaking up by means of education. Democracy begins in the home. Mrs. Gray pointed out that many families have been broken up which otherwise might have been kept together if some advice or counsel had been given at the beginning of their differences which finally led to a separation or divorce and in families where there are children, juvenile delinquency results. Block leaders can help if they know of any such family by telling that famiy of this free confidential professional service offices are in the Spreckles building, room 614, Main 1035. Reports Candidacy 78th Assembly District

John S. Browne, only Democrat to file for the race in the 78th Assembly District, has announced his candidacy for the state legislature.

"As an aircraft mechanic," said Browne, "I am more accustomed to doing than I am to talking, partiularly since it is doing that counts in production.

"To sum it up as briefly as possible, I am running for the state legislature because I think it is high time that body had more representation from the thousands and thousands of 'doers' in all stations and capacities on the home front in our community.

"It is my conviction," he says, "that there is not a vote taken in the state legislature, whether it is on some issue such as the soldiers' vote, the Bay State Park project or routine matters of budget that do not have a bearing on the winning of the war and the question of whether San Diego will continue, within the framework of world-wide peace, to expand and develop as an industrial center in which every citizen of our community will find jobs, prosperity and a happier, post-war way of life."

As a 'doer' on the home front himself, Browne has twice been chairman of the Linda Vista Civic committee, the residents' project, which has made him well acquainted with thousands of citizens in his district and provided him a detailed experience with the civic, recreational, social and educational needs of war workers and their families.

Now in his second term as president of Local 1125 E, International Association of Machinists, AF of L, he has had a long and varied experience with the problems of war workers and the harmonious adjustment of them with management in the interest of unity behind the stepping up of plane production schedules.

Before coming to California, Browne was what he described as "a moderately prosperous" Oklahoma farmer, a background which he says will enable him in Sacramento "to tell the difference between a real farmer and those Associated Farmers from the San Francisco financial district."

He is married, is 34 years old, is the father of three daughters and resides with his family at 6574 Lanston st.

Less Laws, Less Taxes Program of Candidate

Announcements of the candidacy of Frank W. Heilman for county supervisor of the First district was made last week.

"Less laws, less overlapping of county bureau" states Heilman, are what we need. I am convinced that the expenses of government and hence taxes can be materially reduced without impairing the effectiveness of the county program. Stability and continuation of growth must be assured in postwar planning, and I am prepared to work in harmony with the best efforts that are being made along that line. Standards of aged aid should be raised to match a war economy. Government has a responsibility to wartime labor, and that labor in return has a responsibility to government.

"Thorough study of the allocation of our water resources is essential to the agricultural development of the county. Economical development of all secondary and unpaved roads is needed to render them practicaly beneficial to those living in remote districts.

"As supervisor I would join in the effort to obtain for San Diego proper consideration in the development of a low grade direct transcontinental highway. San Diego county now has the finest system of state roads, and we must see to it that San Diego continues to obtain her fair share of state revenues for this purpose."

Resident of San Diego since 1912, Heilman has lived in Mission Hills for the past 18 years, and has been engaged in the real estate business as broker here since that time, with the exception of a short interval spent in developing his own ranch properties in the north. He has dealt largely in income and ranch properties and feels that his experience gives him a peculiar insight into the problems of the county as a whole.

April 15 Taxes Due Tomorrow

It is already time to have filed your Federal income tax estimate for 1944 and your California income tax report for 1943. Both of these must be in not later than April 15.

You must file a Federal estimated income tax report if you are in one of the following classifications: Single and earning $2700 or more annually; married and earning at least $3500; or if you have an annual income of $100 or more from sources other than wages or salary.

If your income for the year is too uncertain to make such an estimate, you are permitted to make your first quarterly payment on the basis of last year's income. Adjustment can be made later in the year when you are able to determine more accurately what you income for 1944 will be.

As to the State tax, remember that exemptions are $2,000 for single persons and $3,500 for married couples plus $400 for each dependent.

Airplane Box Score and Casualties

In 1943 the box score between American and Axis air pilots gave "our team" a "slight" advantage of 11,042 enemy aircraft destroyed to 2,885 of our own planes lost. The Axis losses suffered at the hands of American pilots were nearly 10 times greater than those of 1942 when our flyers downed only 987 while we lost 309. The War Department also gave out the latest figures on American casualties — 173,239, which was an increase of nearly 4,000 in one week. The total includes 22,570 army personnel killed, and 27,183 missing. The Navy lost 18,087 and 9,138 respectively. Over 32,000 Americans are held prisoners of the Axis.

Paper Shortage

The fact that a newsprint shortage almost forced the two largest newspapers in Arizona to suspend publication for two days gives us something to think about. Last minute permission by the War Production Board to borrow newsprint made possible the publication of restricted editions.

Although it was stated that the shortage arose from the failure of the WPB in making paper stock allotments to consider the growth of the territory served by these newspapers, this incident nevertheless serves as a sharp reminder that paper really is scarce.

The threatened two-day shutdown of the Arizona papers is important in itself, but it also serves to indicate what might happen on a much larger scale if we allow our paper supplies to get too low.

So when you finish this paper, don't burn it or throw it away—save it. When you have a bundle of papers, turn them over to the local salvage committee. It is all part of the war effort.

New "War Tools"

Engineers of the British Army are now using a new type of bridge which can be put together in a few seconds, flung over a river or chasm, and can support the heaviest artillery and transport. It is being used effectively in the Italian campaign. Another improvement in "war tools" is the light-weight extra gas tanks which are now being supplied for our Flying Fortresses under reverse Lend-Lease.

The Red Cross In Ocean Beach

By ONA E. PITCOCK

Today has been a wonderful day at your local Red Cross center. It has been one of the days that make you think life is worth living.

Ocean Beach and Mission Beach ladies donated 60 dozen of the most wonderful cookies. In each box besides the cookies went colored eggs and bunny napkins. The boxes were decorated with bunnies, eggs and flower stickers. Mrs. W. A. Schur made hand-painted bunnies with cotton tails. Then we had about 75 colored eggs in decorated boxes. Miss Nye of camp and hospital wishes me to thank each and every lady who helps on this project. She thinks it one of the nicest things we do for our boys. They look forward to cookie day. The ladies who work with Mrs. Mae Heidbrink sent in 37 dozen cookies besides aprons, pot-holders, gloves, stump socks, toe socks, etc.

Mrs. Fred Payne, chairman of production for Red Cross, asks me to thank each and every lady who so generously gives of her time to make articles for Red Cross and Commander Gatlin of the Navy hospital sent Mrs. Payne a letter thanking each lady who has made altar cloths. These go to our fighting front.

Last week Eastern Star gave a card party after their regular meeting held in Masonic hall. The proceeds went to Red Cross. Mrs. O. W. Dare of the local Red Cross gave a brief outline of the work done through the center. Mrs. Ethel Rogers is Red Cross chairman of Eastern Star chapter on Point Loma.

Duane Brubaker, recently returned from Alaska, spoke on articles distributed there. Some of our servicemen have been in the Aleutians from 24 to 36 months and get tired of seeing each other as there is little entertainment and the weather is bad. On Christmas, when the thermometer was 75 below, he was able to give each man a sweater, a pair of socks, a pair of gloves and a helmet. The mufflers are greatly in demand as they will tie over the head and go around the neck at one time. Ditty bags and sewing kits are greatly appreciated as are our slippers. Mr. Brubaker said the boys had to go from their bunks to the wash room in freezing weather and then is when they appreciated the slippers. He also said that 67 out of every 100 boys wounded were saved by plasma and that 80% of all surgical dressings were made by volunteer workers, the other 20% by factories. Read this over and see if every one of you who volunteer for Red Cross work are not proud of yourselves.

Mothers day, May 14th, we want all the cookies we can get. Mothers day will fall on Sunday but the cookies will go in the following Tuesday. We also want red and white carnations and will tie our boxes with red and white ribbon.

Call F-7704 and make an appointment to donate your blood to save a life.

We have yarn for socks, gloves, helmets and other articles, also ditty bags to sew. Call or come to the center. Don't forget we want aprons and pot-holders for the sale to be held soon.

We had a tub full of calla lilies brought in to help decorate the chapels at the hospitals. The Sacajawea Girl Scouts brought in arm loads of lilies and greens as did Mrs. Heidbrink's ladies. Miss Nye of Red Cross drove out after them and wishes me to thank all who donated. You have all read about the services held in the park and the hospitals and know what a wonderful day it was but we cannot forget what a war-torn world we are living in and that we most help more and more and help bring our loved ones home and to peace.

Anyone wishing to donate cookies and find it out of their way to bring them to the center, can leave your donations at the Ocean Beach News office, and we will pick them up.

Thanks to all women who worked on the Roll Call. Almost $400 was sent in by the center through the workers especially Mrs. Heidbrink, Mrs. Oberhellman, Mrs. Roshon, Mrs. Bodendeck, Miss Sexton and others.

Salads Make Menus Sparkle!
(See Recipes Below)

Salad Ensembles

The warmer the weather, the more popular the salad becomes as a luncheon mainstay. Salads can be made from fruit or fish, fowl or vegetables—or from combinations of any of these classes as long as the foods go together.

If you want to give your salads a more than average nutritional boost plus distinction serve them with a cream cheese dressing. Then, if company drops in, you will not have to make apologies for what you're serving. For vegetables, use chive cream cheese blended with mayonnaise—a 6-ounce wedge with 4 tablespoons of mayonnaise is a good proportion.

Fruit salads are good with the pimiento cream cheese dressing blended with mayonnaise. Fish salads are best with the relish cream cheese. Use 6 ounces blended with 4 tablespoons of mayonnaise.

Salads can be light or hearty, depending on their ingredients.

Savory Salad.
(Serves 6 to 8)

1½ cups macaroni
½ cup leftover ham or sausage
½ cup chopped sweet pickle
¾ cup finely diced celery
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 cups chopped apple
3 tablespoons minced pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons grated onion
¼ cup thinly sliced carrots
1 cup salted peanuts
⅔ cup mayonnaise

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Cool. Combine with remaining ingredients. Add mayonnaise and mix well. Chill. Serve in lettuce cups garnished with radish slices.

Save Used Fats!

As fresh as spring and just as enchanting is this lighter salad:

Garden Salad.
(Serves 6)

1 head lettuce or Chinese cabbage
1 onion, grated
1 bunch chicory
1 bunch radishes
3 tomatoes, sliced
3 carrots, grated
1 cucumber, chopped
2 hard-cooked eggs

Combine ingredients. When ready to serve, toss with French dressing.

Jellied Chicken Salad.
(Serves 6)

3 cups cooked, diced chicken
1½ cups chicken broth
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon onion salt
½ cup peas
Mayonnaise

Heat well-seasoned chicken broth. Add gelatin, soaked in water, chicken, lemon juice, onion salt and peas.

Lynn Says

Pretty, Pretty: All foods no matter how simple can be made more appetizing by attractive garnishes. And remember to eat the garnishes, for in most cases they're as nutritious as they are beautiful. This is especially true in the case of eggs.

Sieve hard-cooked yolks over top of creamed soups. Cut hard-cooked egg whites into attractive shapes for bouillon or consomme.

Baked custard can be cut into attractive shapes for clear soups. Make the custard using meat stock or bouillon cubes.

Daisy garnishes for vegetables are very effective. Cut whites of eggs lengthwise into five or more petals using a sharp knife, cutting from larger end to within ½ inch of the smaller end. Open petals, remove yolks and fill center of petals with sieved egg yolk.

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menu

Salmon Cutlets Egg Sauce
*Garden Salad
Peas with Onions
Caramel Rolls Spread
Citrus Chiffon Pie
*Recipe Given

Mold in cups rubbed slightly with olive oil and allow to chill until firm. Serve with mayonnaise on crisp lettuce leaves. Clusters of grapes make an attractive garnish.

Contrast in color becomes important when putting together salads. Since we are said "to eat with our eyes first" it's important to keep the salad appetizing. Carrots, green pepper and celery are a good combination. Cooked beets, green beans and cauliflower look well together. Leave the skin on apples so they can add the bright touch of red to the salad. Nuts offer contrast in color as well as texture to fruit, vegetable or chicken salad.

Egg Salad Mold.
(Serves 6)

2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
4 hard-cooked eggs, shredded
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons diced green pepper
2 tablespoons pickle relish
1 tablespoon diced pimiento
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ teaspoon salt

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Heat over boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Cool. When thickened, add remaining ingredients. Pour into individual molds or one large mold and chill. Serve with additional mayonnaise and garnish with endive and carrot curls.

Save Used Fats!

Rhubarb Salad Ring.
(Serves 6)

1 package raspberry or lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup hot rhubarb sauce
1 cup cold water
1 cup chopped apples
1 cup chopped nuts

Dissolve gelatin in hot sauce. Add water, cool and pour into a ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Serve Waldorf salad in center of ring. Or, make salad ring with strained cranberry sauce and serve chicken salad in center of ring.

If the salad is as good as its dressing, you will be able to use these suggestions:

Salad Bowl Dressing: Combine 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, a dash of pepper, 1 to 2 drops liquid garlic and a dash of sugar. Mix until blended and then pour in 1 cup salad oil and ½ teaspoon gum arabic or gum tragacanth (obtainable at a druggist's, usually). Shake or beat well and chill before using.

Peanut Butter French Dressing: Combine the following: ¼ cup peanut oil, ½ cup salad oil, ½ cup pure cider vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, and ½ teaspoon paprika. Beat thoroughly until blended. This is good for simple green salads.

Sour Cream Dressing: Mix together 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons flour, 2 teaspoons sugar and a dash of cayenne. Blend together 1 egg yolk beaten, 1 tablespoon oil and ⅓ cup vinegar and stir gradually into dry ingredients. Cook in top of double boiler until thick, remove from heat, then cool. Before serving, fold in ½ cup sour cream.

Checks Register High Style Throughout the Spring Mode

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S the bolero suit that is made of an ultra modern black and white check fabric as per the model (right) that soars to the top o' the mode this spring. This important little bolero suit is made of an all wool weave in hound's tooth check. The fact that it is smartly accented with a satin binding adds to its style prestige. The slimming skirt features a kick pleat, back and front. A bolero twosome like this tempts its wearer to indulge in any number of frilly white or high color blouses to team up with it this spring.

Practically every woman likes the flattery and the practicability of the lumber-jacket blouse such as styles the two-piece dress shown to the left. Here again we see checks given smart recognition, in that the material used is a neat navy and white checked crepe. The skirt is one of the very new draw-string types. A dramatic use is made of large mother-of-pearl discs as buttons.

If you are about to invest in a new spring coat you'll be interested in the smart short toppers that are being shown tailored of stylish wool check weave. Black and white check is always good style and these stunning new toppers show off at their best made of black with white checks. However, if your fancy runs to the new browns or tangerine shades or the navies, checks in these tones are easily available.

Let no one think that the present mania for checks is restricted to dresses and suits and coats. In fact, there is no limitation to the use of checks this spring. Some of the smartest blouses brought out this season are of the long-torso type worn over the skirt, these being fashioned of taffeta patterned in bold checks in various color combinations with emphasis on black and white. The soft bow-tie blouse is also tres chic in checks.

Perhaps it is in the accessory realm and in the millinery field of design that checks are demonstrating that something new has been added in way of hat, bag and glove sets, made of either checked surah or taffeta or gingham, which is accepted as topnotch fashion this spring. During the coming months we will see fetching hats both small of brim (especially tiny sailors) made of checked gingham, displayed side by side with gingham hats enormous of brim, such as the stunning high-crown model shown to the left in the margin below. This smart summer chapeau is done in brown and white checked gingham. The other two hats are also cunningly contrived of plaid-with-check cottons. A popular use of taffeta checks is also shown in bows and ruffles that animate many of the new basic black or navy gowns for spring wear.

Yellow Daisy Print

In the new spring color trends considerable stress is being placed on bright yellows, gold tones and especially on the new tangerine shades. In a recent style revue in the Merchandise Mart, Chicago, this yellow daisy print was shown that tunes to the spring song of fashion in its refreshing flower tones. The styling of the slenderizing skirt with a becoming soft easy-to-wear front drape is characteristic of the technique generally adopted in the fashioning of the newest daytime prints. Other distinctive features are the low V-neckline and self-covered buttons.

Soldier's Bride Wears Pastel Suit This Year

Hers is a furlough wedding in a posy-beveiled hat, most likely a pastel suit and a frou-frou dickey in the new pastels to match her hat and gloves or maybe she chooses traditional white. Time was when hope chests gathered linens and lingerie, but the 1944 bride, who has been busy up to the last minute before her wedding, has an "accessory trousseau." One good suit or suit dress, two or three pretty hats (that's the way the men like 'em), a few pair of gloves, white and colored, which can be tubbed and kept immaculate, and an assortment of dickeys and suit collars. The latter pretty much on the lingerie side, confections of sheer and lace, rippling ruffles and new pastel shades or white, of course.

Headbands, Half-Hats Are Cunningly Crocheted

We are just beginning to discover the charming things that can be done with hand-crochet. For a joyous pastime and a profitable one feast your eyes on the lovely novelties in way of headbands, snoods and other head dress novelties which women adept with the crochet hook are turning out. Just get a crochet instruction book and follow the directions and you can acquire a wardrobe of pretty accessories for yourself. It's a revelation what can be achieved in way of sensationally beautiful items. It adds to the lure of the new crochet headbands to crochet a matching drawstring bag.

Weskits Play Star Role

A gay weskit worn with your suit will bring a definitely "new" look to your costume. These waistcoats, styled after the types men wore in the long ago, look smart made of gingham, handsome brocade or gleaming white satin with rhinestone buttons.

Nurses Busy

During an intense and rapid enemy advance in North Africa, army nurses helped to take down a 750-bed evacuation hospital and a 400-bed surgical hospital, then set them up again behind our lines. They did this twice within 48 hours!

Shoe Care

Leather experts have these tips to offer on the winter care of shoes. Keep shoes clean, dry, oiled, away from heat, and in good repair. Two enemies of leather are moisture and heat. If your shoes get wet in the snow or rain, dry them slowly and away from heat stronger than your hand can bear, as wet leather scorches readily. Stuff the shoes with crumpled paper to keep them in shape, and rub castor oil into the leather while it is wet. After the shoes are dry, polish them.

The Boer War

The Boer war in South Africa between Great Britain and the Boers, or inhabitants of Dutch ancestry, of the Transvaal and Orange Free State Republics, took place in the closing years of the 19th century.

Administration of the Cape Colony shuttled between England and The Netherlands in the early 19th century, finally being given to England in 1815. Boer resentment against many English policies culminated in the "Great Trek" or emigration in 1835, when 7,000 Boers left the colony. Troubled relations continued and in 1880 war broke out which resulted in modified independence being granted to the Transvaal in 1881. Discovery of gold there brought an influx of British colonists and these settlers (Uitlanders) were denied civil rights by the Boers.

Friction increased and in 1899 the Boers invaded Natal, held by the British. After three years of warfare the two republics were annexed to the British crown and later became part of the Union of South Africa.

Right Thing

Tact, according to the formal definition, is merely the perception of what to do and say under delicate or difficult circumstances.

But tact is more than a definition. It is a state of mind. You cannot be tactful unless you are thinking about other people, about what they would like, about their feelings and rights more than about your own.

Real value of tact lies in this, that it relieves tension and glosses over situations that might endanger friendship, self-respect or even the personality standing of any of us.

Anyone can master tact if he will pay attention and drill himself in gracious ways. And few arts that you can acquire in life will pay you greater dividends.

200 EGGS PER HEN PER YEAR!

ft can be done! With proper feeding, proper care. But it takes know-how!

Wallace M. Fox, one of America's outstanding poultry authorities, has written a book with the show-how that gives you the know-how. In simple A B C language it shows you how to get more eggs, more meat, more money, out of your flock—whether it numbers 6 or 6,000.

It is called THE ABC OF POULTRY-RAISING. Each of its 165 pages alone is worth the price of the book, $1. For it tells you the things you must know to make poultry pay! Stick to the simple rules laid down in this book and you simply can't go wrong. It has been called "the greatest poultry book ever written for beginners." And it is!

So why put off learning the practical poultry pointers that will save you many a dollar, many a headache? Especially when you take no chances! Just clip this ad, attach $1, and mail it to Coast Publications, 933 South Western Avenue, Los Angeles 6. We'll send the book postpaid. You can examine it a full week. Then, if you like the book, keep it. If not, send it back and we'll return your money. Fair enough?

Appreciate Cooperation

Appreciation of public understanding of the telephone problem and of customers' cooperation in helping to meet the situation was expressed by N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Southern California Telephone Company, in a statement accompanying dividend checks mailed to common shareholders, according to word received by A. V. Engel, local telephone company manager.

Mr. Powley's statement follows:

"With a thorough realization of the indispensability of the telephone in our nation's war program, our company is using its facilities, restricted as they are by the stringent war limitations on materials and the manufacture of telephone equipment, to install without delay all services classified as being directly connected with the war effort, or necessary to public health, welfare or security. Although the installation of other services, necessarily subordinated to those in the war priority classifications, cannot be made as rapidly as applications are received, everything possible is being done to provide service, over-burdened as our telephone plant is. With the margins of our spare facilities generally depleted, installations for waiting applicants are dependent in most instances on the release of facilities by customers who discontinue service.

"The increase in telephone demand, both for installations and for long distance, continues its pronounced upward course. The splendid cooperation and understanding of the public make an almost impossible task an inspired undertaking to our men and women, who, 'with more to do with less to do it with,' are doing their utmost, with their characteristic resourcefulness, ingenuity, courage and courtesy, to 'take the message through'."

The Marauder bomber Jezabelle had just completed a bomb run over Beauvais-Tille airdrome when a Focke-Wulf 190 swept in, pumping two cannon shells into the plane and killing the tail gunner. His face torn by shrapnel, Staff Sgt. Donald G. Maryott of Hooper, Neb., waist gunner, gathered up exploding incendiaries set afire by the hit, and saved the plane from destruction. THE STORY THUS FAR: Lieut. Col. Frank Kurtz, pilot of a Flying Fortress, tells of that fatal day when the Japs struck in the Philippines. Eight of his men were killed fleeing for shelter and Old 99, with many other Fortresses, was demolished before it could get off the ground. After escaping to Australia, what is left of the squadron flies to Java where they go out on missions over the Philippines. The bombardier takes up the story and tells of a flying trip to Brazil, Egypt, Iraq, India and Java. A battle in the clouds in which swarms of Zeros attack an E model Fortress is described, and in which the Zeros come out second best. Seven Zeros are shot down.

CHAPTER XII

"We've already lost altitude waiting for the Major (we'd boxed him in so he could stay with us and the Zeros wouldn't tear him to pieces), and he seems to have developed engine trouble. We're down to 23,000 feet. And I'm the lead bombardier.

"But now the whole plan is again altered: I get it over the command radio. We're to lay them in chains across this target. So I set up the bomb sight again, put the cross hairs on that cruiser.

"It is a perfect run. I even have time to take my eye off the sight, and fire bursts at two more Zeros as they attack from the front. They start way out ahead, to the left and a little below us. Now, coming on in at me, they cross over and up, toward the center of my fuselage, their guns pounding, and then slip on back and dive straight down and away.

"I get one because he miscues.

"Then I jam my eye back onto that bomb sight. Everything is riding pretty—the cross hairs right where I want them, the bombs about ready to be released.

"A second before the bombs leave my plane, I see that Jap cruiser starting to turn (he's figured our bomb-release line to the hair). He's turning toward us as I watch the bombs go down. By the time they' arrived, the cruiser is three-fourths through a turn of 180 degrees. The first bombs are falling short—three of them. Now mine come—two direct hits on the cruiser, the other two going over. The plane back of me gets some direct hits. My left wing man's string is barely in front of the cruiser, my right wing man's string is barely behind it — the damned thing seems enveloped in bombs churning the water, and debris flying above the foam. Boy, that Japanese captain just turned the wrong way!

"But now our formation swings and heads for home. Zeros still swarming around us, and we're still losing altitude to stay back to protect the Major, who seems able to use barely enough throttle to keep her in the air. After forty minutes the last Zero drops away; they're short of gas and daren't chase us any further.

"Presently, over the command radio:

" 'Robinson to Skiles. Go ahead.'

" 'Skiles answering.'

" 'Radio the base at Malang to have an ambulance ready. We have two badly wounded men aboard.'

"We wonder who they are. One is probably the tail gunner, since we saw Robinson's plane taking so many tracers there. The other must be their radio operator, or else they could have sent their own dot-dash message back to base.

"Meantime our radio operator is telling Malang to have the ambulance out. Our plane is now leading the formation. Major Robinson's just behind us. We've drifted slowly down to 4,000 feet altitude, protecting Robinson. Then, all of a sudden, Robinson's plane swoops down beneath us about 1,000 feet, and the incline sends it scooting on out in front of us, heading a little toward the coast of Borneo. Is Robinson going to beach her? And now over the command radio:

" 'Skiles to Robinson. Is there anything wrong?' our pilot asks.

"But there is no answer. We watch. Now Major Robinson is making a gradual turn, as though to rejoin the formation. But halfway in the turn his plane starts nosing over, goes into a dive, goes faster—straight down at the sea. We watch, holding our breath. Just before he goes in, his tail elevator blows off. The poor guy must have had the stick clutched back into his stomach trying to pull out of that dive, and the terrible air pressure on those elevators ripped them off. There's a huge splash—flame—a spiral of black smoke, and a widening circle of yellows, reds, and black, which is burning gas and oil on that topaz-green water.

"The second after it hits I call Lieutenant Duphrane on the interphone.

" 'My God, Duke,' I said, 'did you see that?'

" 'Yes,' he said. And then in a minute he said, 'Thank God those Japs didn't see it.'

"The formation circles above the dead Queen. We circle until the fire dies away, peering down at the widening disk of oil. But there is no sign of anything else on the surface.

"Until then it hadn't seemed like a battle—just a game. But now I feel like someone had kicked me in the guts. There were guys on there I'd drunk with. We'd sat around and lied to each other. I'd seen it happen, but I couldn't believe what I saw—it seemed like a bad dream.

"When we landed, all the crew assembled for the critique, each member dictating just what he had seen to the officer. That's when I was credited with three of the eight Zeros we knocked down. After the critique no one had much to say. We were all thinking about what we saw happen.

"They told us to go to the barracks and get some rest. But an hour later I found that the whole crew had, one by one, drifted back out to the plane—cleaning guns, improving gun positions, doing things we'd suggested back in the States but no one had ever got around to doing. Throwing away those small inadequate ammunition cans, and rigging the guns so you could set a whole box of ammunition in there, figuring ways of putting more guns in the nose—.50-caliber ones that really pack a punch. And cussing hell out of the bottom turret. It has remote control—you look through a mirror and everything is backwards, and you have to know exactly where the plane is going before you can line the sights.

"We'd found out our machine-gun oil would freeze at high altitudes, and we were figuring how to clean and oil the guns so they would best operate up there. You couldn't tell the officers from the men (remember, we had no maintenance crews in Java; we did all the work ourselves) and my pilot had his coveralls on, installing an extra oxygen outlet in the tail. After seeing what had happened to Robinson's tail gunner, he figured if his tail gunner got wounded, another man in the crew could go back there and they would both stay on oxygen.

"The E of course was a big advance over the D. But any new model will have little things wrong that you never find out until you take one up and fight it.

"All through Java we did it all ourselves—the officers right along with us, helping load bombs and checking valves. We flew in weather out there you wouldn't drive out to the airport in back here. But the Japs were flying it too; they'd come in strafing and we'd have to jerk our old mutts off the ground quick."

"Anyway," said Frank Kurtz, "we had stopped the Japanese there in Macassar Strait for a while. The little Dutch Navy helped, but mostly it was American air power. We'd sunk quite a gang of them, so the rest had to go home and lick their wounds, realizing they couldn't move in on Java until they had air control. This meant they would have to clean us out of our advance fields in Borneo and the Celebes. It wouldn't be hard, for the Dutch had no troops to speak of on these islands. Everything had had to be withdrawn to hold Java. But it took time for the Japs to take over our little advance bases at Samarinda and Kendari, and being new to war, we foolishly thought Time was on our side. We were thinking of those thousand planes. We hadn't learned that Time in war is a treacherous ally who favors anyone who will use him.

"But meantime Colonel Eubank had hauled me down to the ground for a while to do a different job. Too many wars were going on. The Japanese were running a pretty good one, but against them were the American Air Force, the Royal Dutch Air Force, the American, Dutch, and Australian navies, all of us running wars of our own.

"Finally it was agreed that every night they'd deliver to me in Surabaya a safe-hand message, giving the position of every American ship in those waters. We'd swap information about operations, so everyone would be pulling together. It was a liaison job, and since I'd have to deal with Navy men so heavy with rank and gold braid on their sleeves they looked like they'd had their arms up to the elbows in scrambled eggs, the Colonel gave me a set of captain's bars, so I could talk up to them. Presently I was dealing with everyone — the Dutch and the British, too.

"The Dutch, for instance, were begging for help in Sumatra. It's that long island which parallels Malaya, pointing down in the direction of Java. The Japs weren't in Singapore yet, but already they were swarming across the narrow seas from Malaya trying to grab the oil refineries at Palembang. So the Colonel sent the Forts."

"We got to Palembang the last week in January," said Sergeant Boone, the gunner. "The Dutch there were certainly swell to us. There is a huge refinery in the town, and they took us to a club sponsored by Standard Oil Company—a palace. All the club members would drop around to be sure the Air Corps had a place for the night. A Dutch officer took the rear gunner and myself to his quarters. He'd married an American girl, so he spoke good English. We had on only greasy coveralls, but he took us right into his quarters—all air-conditioned and mosquito-proofed. The native couple they had as cook and houseboy gave us the first home-cooked meal we'd tasted since the war.

"The Dutch officer was a fine-looking big blond guy. He brought out clean pajamas for us, and some of his uniforms we could wear for dinner. He was depressed. Early in January he had evacuated his wife and child to Java—for safety, although that seems queer to say now. He himself was staying behind, in command of native ground troops, to defend those refineries. He hadn't heard from his wife. You could see he was very much in love with her. Also that he didn't think much of the military setup they had in Sumatra, so he doubted that he would ever see her again.

"He'd been back on a visit to Holland just before the Germans came in. Since then he'd had only one letter from his mother—smuggled out. She had had a couple of German maids from over the border. They made good servants for the heavy work, but just before the surprise invasion they'd been called back to Germany. It was the same, she said, all over Holland. So no wonder, he said, that the Germans knew the name of every Dutch officer in Holland. The morning of the invasion, the Gestapo would knock at the door, and when the officer opened it, would shoot him down in cold blood. This was why, he explained, the Dutch Navy was so incapacitated for officers. He was very bitter. He was in wonderful physical condition—been leading native troops through the jungles. Said his wife was high up in the Java mountains and hoped she was safe. Next morning we left on a mission and never saw him again."

"We came up a little later," said the Bombardier, "and by the time we got there, the Japs were moving into the river's mouth, just below Palembang. The weather was overcast—a ceiling of 2,000, so we had to work down below that. None of us liked it, because a Fort is a hell of a big easy target so close to the ground—never built for that. As we came in, so close to the ground, our radio operator called Skiles on the interphone.

" 'Captain,' he said, 'oxygen doesn't agree with me, but I'm willing to begin chewing it any time now,' and I broke in, 'You can say that again.'

"Captain Northcott was leading the mission—six planes we were, and when we sighted the target he called over the command radio, assigning our flight to a transport on the left.

"It was a monster, a huge Maru liner which I've seen as a luxury cruise boat tied up to the San Francisco docks. Suddenly she cut loose a hell of an antiaircraft barrage at us, all coming from this one transport—a regular Fourth of July at three o'clock in the afternoon. It was like looking down into a cone of fire, with this transport at the tip, and smoking red-hot rivets, they seemed like, whizzing up at us. They were rocking us around when suddenly we shuddered violently and almost went over on our back. An ack-ack shell had burst under one wing near the fuselage. Big pieces of it tore a huge hole just where the wing joins the fuselage, and one embedded itself just a few inches from Captain Skiles.

"We were already on our run, almost at the release line, and the jar had thrown out the bomb sight—it was completely inoperative. But I'd done some practice low-altitude bombing at Muroc back in the States, so I said the hell with a bomb sight—I'd guess at it. I was good and mad at the shaking-up we'd got. 'All right, you xxx xxx xxx, here they come!' I hollered, and dropped four in rapid succession. They landed in a cluster about twenty-five feet from the transport. The other four I released more slowly. We'd come down to 1,000 feet now, and that's low.

Container Shortage A Primary Headache For Farmer in 1944

By BARROW LYONS

WNU Staff Correspondent

Barrow Lyons

It is the advice of this correspondent that every farmer and shipper who requires wooden or paperboard containers to ship his crop to market make arrangements as soon as he can with used container dealers to supplement his supply of new containers. It would be well to get those used containers into his possession just as soon as possible. This advice is given because the demand for containers, both new and used, is certain to exceed the supply this year. If you do not know the address of a used container dealer, hunt one up in the nearest terminal market, or if you cannot do so yourself, get your commission house to send you the address of one.

The reason for this caution is the fact that for several years consumption of forest products has exceeded production, and stockpiles in most instances are at an irreducible minimum. Yet military and industrial requirements this year will be at an all-time peak. Lumber has become one of the scarcest commodities in general trade, and it is going to be scarcer.

The War Production board has announced a system for allocating lumber to each type of user according to the importance of that type to the war effort. No doubt adjustments will be made as experience indicates errors that have been made in this allocation.

Use Local Committees

Coordinating with this order, local committees under War Food administration will determine specifically what each shipper will receive within the quotas for packaging of various classes of fruits and vegetables. Quotas of containers for the less essential vegetables will be cut down on the basis of a percentage of what the shipper used in the 1942 crop season. Each shipper will be expected to offer proof of the quantity of containers used in 1942.

The general situation was outlined by R. A. Palen, chief of the Containers and Packaging Branch, Office of Materials and Facilities, WFA.

"It is impossible at this moment to know just how short of forest products we shall be," said Mr. Palen, "because it is impossible to calculate exactly what military demands will be.

"We do know that inventories have been practically exhausted. Although we expect to get some additional help in lumbering from war prisoners, this will not compensate for the loss of men drawn into the armed services, and additional numbers that will leave the forests for shipyards and industrial plants.

"There will be no relief from this situation, so far as we can foresee, except when direct war requirements decline, or men return to the woods after their release from the army and navy.

Military Needs High

"So far as machinery goes, tractors and trucks will be required in greater numbers for beaching operations and military transport, and the tires on this heavy equipment are the same as those used on guns and military trucks.

"Packaging of food requirements for the army and navy are way up, and are likely to continue very high. We shall have to move vast quantities of foods off shore for lend-lease and other governments. Of course, we must preserve a flow of essential civilian supplies—but the word essential will come to have a new meaning to most of us.

"Restricting the less essential crops that require a large amount of containers, implies getting the maximum use possible from the containers we have. However, the size of containers must be increased and lighter materials must be used.

"While the demand for pulpwood has mounted enormously, production is not sufficient. The amount available for essential uses is far below minimum requirements. Huge quantities of paper are now being used for waterproofing purposes by the army."

The greatest deficiency, Mr. Palen said, would be in hampers and baskets to supply growers in the Middle West, Northeast and Middle Atlantic sections, although scarcity will be felt from Florida north, including the Mississippi valley and New England. There will be no more containers than last year, but a considerably larger crop will be harvested.

In one area farmers cooperated with box manufacturers to insure their supply of containers by bringing the lumber into the mills themselves, and then helping out in the mills by processing the lumber. It is hoped that in the fall many other sections will adopt this plan.

In the meantime, it will be well for each farmer and shipper to obtain used containers if he can do so. The next best plan is to contract for supplies, not overlooking the used container dealers. If one cannot be located, write Mr. Palen in Washington.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Planes fly in supplies and bring out crude rubber from Central American plantations. Weeks are saved by this method of transportation.

In building a battleship it takes 150,000 pounds of rubber. This is equivalent to the rubber used in the manufacture of more than 12,000 small passenger-car tires.

The first city omnibus lines, the forerunner of modern motor bus transportation, started operations over the streets of Paris in 1662.

Seventy-three per cent of the employees in 94 war plants depend upon their cars for transportation. Rubber is essential to their work.

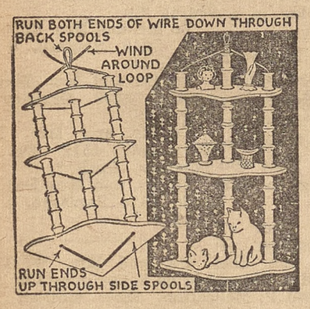
Shelves of Spools For Your Trinkets

THESE graceful corner shelves are ten inches wide and seven inches deep at the bottom. Just the right size to hold the quaint match holder, the old-fashioned china doll head and other interesting trinkets that you have been treasuring.

The spools and shelves now may be practically welded together with new easy-to-use types of glue.



The wire or cord is then run through, as shown here, so that the shelves may be hung in a corner ready to hold articles of considerable weight.

Blast Tore Up Street; Workman Did Likewise

The talkative workman was holding forth to an admiring audience in the village store. He was explaining that even in his job, which people might think dull enough, there was sometimes quite a lot of excitement.

"Why I can remember once when a gas explosion tore up a main street where I was working. Huge stones were hurled into the air, buildings trembled and debris rained all about me."

"And what did you do," expectantly asked one of the store's customers.

"Me?" replied the workman, "I quickly regained my composure and tore up a side street."

Elephant Troops

Predecessor to the modern army tank troop was the Hindu elephant troop employed hundreds of years ago. The tribes of India mounted their "bow-and-arrow" warriors in boxes on the broad backs of mature elephants.

The strategy was to crush down footmen with a stampede charge. Wrote Tartar Emperor Kublai Khan: "Infantry and cavalry took fright when these elephants mounted by archers attacked."

ENDS 5-YEAR SIEGE OF CONSTIPATION!

"Now as Regular as Anyone!" Says H. C. Durand

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read:

"I'm 82 years old, and have been constipated over 5 years, going as much as 5 days without a movement. Pills and laxatives would relieve me only for the day I took them. Next day I'd be as bad as ever. Then I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Am now on my second box, and as regular as anyone could want, thanks to regular use of your wonderful product!" Mr. H. C. Durand, 221 N. Columbus Ave., Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.

Sounds like "magic," doesn't it? Yet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really can, and does, get at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins daily. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Another Interesting Letter

From Sgt. H. A. Hartvigsen, we received this letter, which we are pleased to share.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H.

March, 1944.

Dearest Folks:

Been about two weeks since I wrote, so I guess it's about time. Lots has happened, including our move into our new radio station, the Radio City of the Aleutians (we hope), which took place the night of the 7th and early a. m. of the 8th. After I finished the last broadcast in the old station, A. G. and I started the move and finished at 6:15 the morning of the 8th.

We had a test run from 4:30 to 5 or so—A. G. introduced me, and I played the Moonlight Sonata (on the Army Steinway) as well as I could remember it. I started the first official broadcast at 6:30 that morning. Since then the lieutenant gave me a new desk, and I stained and varnished it; we have many other things to do yet.

Last night we had Olivia de Havilland on a broadcast. She is paying a short visit to No. 980. The station was crowded, particularly with officers, and it was a very big evening. She is a swell person, and we really enjoyed having her here. There were many pictures taken, and you'll see them as soon as I can get them in the mail.

Your letter of Feb. 28 and March 6 received and the vitamins arrived March 3. They are fine and are being consumed regularly. There have been no other packages or letters.

About a week ago I bought a box camera and film, and as soon as I obtain a permit, will take the pictures that I can around here. If you find any size 116 film please send it along, preferably verichrome.

Guess that's all—got a lot of work to do.

Love,

AUSTIN.

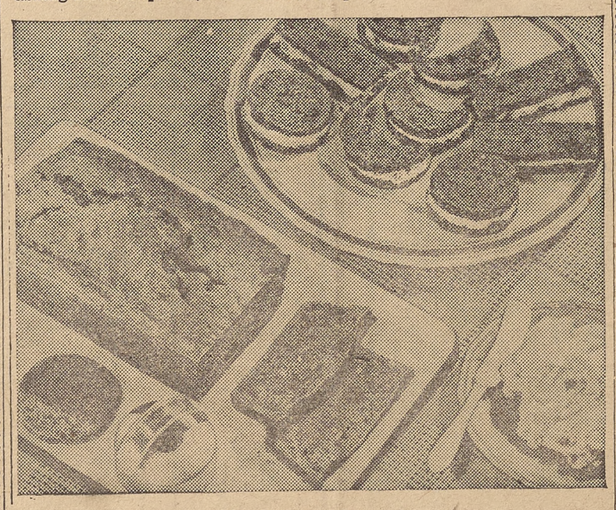
Quick and Easy Bread for Lunchboxes

For a lunchbox surprise, a dinner or luncheon treat, what could be more delicious than a moist, rich Fruit Nut Bread chockful of nuts, dates and figs? Here's one that really rings the bell!

Wizards in lunchbox success say: "Have two kinds of sandwiches a meaty one and a dessert one. V-A-R-Y your breads! And don't be stingy with the filling!" Your lunchboxers will say you're a wizard, too, when they find these thick, satisfying Fruit Nut Sandwiches. Here are some fillings they will like: cream cheese and olives or celery or nuts—cottage cheese and jelly—peanut butter or any nut butter—honey and nuts.

Quick and easy to make with creamy, all-vegetable shortening, this recipe is one you'll use over and over again because your family will keep asking for it. Clip now, and have for keeps!



Fruit Nut Bread

1 cup dates, cut or ½ cup dates and ½ cup figs
½ cup nuts, chopped
1 cup hot water
¼ cup Spry
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup Graham flour

Combine dates, nuts, and hot water and let stand. Combine Spry and salt. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add egg and mix well. Add date mixture to creamed mixture, blending well. Sift flour with soda. Add white flour and Graham flour to date mixture and mix well. Bake in 9x5x3-inch Sprycoated loaf pan in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour.
